Frequently Asked Questions:

What is subdivision endorsement?

Subdivision endorsement is the process of a municipality acknowledging that the conditions stated on a conditional subdivision approval are met in accordance with the decision from the subdivision authority and providing a final tentative plan of subdivision for registration at Land Titles.

The endorsement process occurs after a subdivision has been conditionally approved by the subdivision authority. The applicant has one year from the date of the conditional approval to meet the subdivision conditions and have the subdivision endorsed by the municipality. Subdivision registration cannot occur until the municipality endorses the subdivision, which grants an applicant one year to have the subdivision registered at Land Titles.

Do I need to apply to extend the endorsement period?

You need to apply to extend the endorsement period if you are unable to get the subdivision registered at Land Titles within the one year period from the date your application received conditional approval from the Town's subdivision authority, as mandated by the Municipal Government Act.

Definitions:

Certificate of title: a legal document that identifies the owner(s) of a property and any registered caveats pertaining to a property.

Relevant registered caveat: a notice that a party, such as a utility provider or government organization, have an interest on a parcel of land, involving access easements, development agreements, deferred reserve caveats, etc.

Tentative plan of subdivision: a preliminary plan showing the subdivision area and the proposed lots to be created, completed by an Alberta Land Surveyor.
